

Writing task

Write a diary from George's point of view describing what happened when he found the book, when he decided to go to town to find the book's owner, when he arrived at the town and when he finally learnt to read.

Write down what happened in George's words.

Describe how George felt at each part of the story.

Remember - it is a diary and not a story. You probably won't need any dialogue in it.

It would be a good idea to start a new paragraph for each part of the story so that each paragraph is a different day.

Listen to the story again so that you have lots of ideas !

Remember to include -

adjectives

adverbs (how something is done)

conjunctions - and, but, or, because, when, if, that, after, whilst, so

preposition phrases (where something is - this could be time or place)

Don't forget -

full stops

capital letters

exclamation marks

question marks

commas in lists

apostrophes for contraction

apostrophes for possession

I would love to read some of your diaries so please send them to me at apliteracy@gmail.com
